

Patient Intake Report

Patient: Robert Chen Age: 71 Sex: M Date: 2026-07-21

Chief Complaint

Sudden right-sided facial drooping and slurred speech, onset 20 minutes ago.

History of Present Illness

Family reports patient suddenly developed right-sided facial drooping, slurred speech, and weakness in the right arm approximately 20 minutes prior to arrival. Symptoms have not improved. Last known well time was 25 minutes ago. No head trauma reported. No seizure activity observed.

Relevant Medical History

History of atrial fibrillation, not currently anticoagulated per patient's report of missing recent doses. Hypertension, hyperlipidemia.

Vitals

BP 176/104, HR 96 irregularly irregular, RR 18, SpO2 96% on room air, temp 36.9C.

Physical Exam Notes

Right facial droop, dysarthria, right arm drift on pronator testing, right-hand grip weakness. Pupils equal and reactive. Irregularly irregular heart rhythm consistent with known AFib.